

Polish – German exchange

Unfortunately it has finished....

In October, we were pleased to host German group of students who were supervised by Mrs Maria Rissen and Mr Tobias Heinz.

After welcoming our friends, on the second day students were working hard on the project “What do you know about John Paul the Second?”

Welcome Cracow!

On Saturday we went to Cracow. We were amazed by its historical beauty and fascinating atmosphere. German students were especially stunned by Cracovian beast – which of course was our little Dragon “Bazyliczek” ☺

Waiting for St. Mary's Church bugle-call

Both Polish and German teachers were really surprised at the ease with which students were making friends and socializing with each other.

Next days brought new adventures ☺

Monday's visit at Fortress Modlin will be mostly remembered because of the visit in military tunnels which were haunted by tiny bats and slugs (naked snails) ☺

Slugs and snails everywhere!

Tuesday's sightseeing in Warsaw was fascinating even for Polish students who were acquainted with some new facts about their Capital.

The worst day eveeeeer...

It had to happen....it had to come...the last day...

Nobody could have foreseen that during those 5 days, bonds between Polish and German students would become so strong and emotional.

Tearful goodbye

See you in May...

“It was a great experience. I could test and improve my German and English having a lot of fun at the same time” – said Asia, one of the students.

“Meeting German friends was a great event. Hope to have as good time as in Poland” – Kajetan, the one who is really getting impatient about the trip to Neuss ☺

The concept of Polish – German exchange fulfills many tasks. Blending of our cultures, improvement of speaking skills, socializing, dispelling some stereotypes about our nations.

We are looking forward to meeting our German friends soon, see you in May!
